

Class 3 trip to Trencrom Hill On a really beautiful day this week, Class 3 children climbed Trencrom to find the Iron Age Fort. We sketched what we saw, told stories of Cornish Giants and made Pixies amongst the trees.

BBC Spotlight joined us on our adventures!

What are you Reading?

Emily recommends reading 'Soul Eater' by Michelle Paver. "This is the third book in the Chronicles of Ancient Darkness series. As mid winter approaches Torak learns the worst from the White Fox clan - Wolf has been snatched. In a desperate bid to rescue him, Torak his friend Renn must brave the frozen wilderness of the Far North. Once I started reading this book I could not put it down! This book is full of action and adventure and can be a bit scary in places."

Capoeira

On Monday this week the whole school took part in Capoeira workshops. Capoeira is a Brazilian martial art that combines elements of dance, acrobatics, and music. It is known for its acrobatic and complex maneuvers, often involving hands on the ground and inverted kicks. The children really enjoyed this very energetic day!

Tag Rugby

Our KS2 children are currently learning how to play Tag Rugby by Sam from the Cornish Pirates.

The children have been having a great time learning new skills.

G7 Poster Competition for Children run by Cornwall Council

In just over 6 weeks, on June 11th, leaders from around the world will be coming to Cornwall for an important meeting call the G7 Summit.

Has anyone heard of this and do you know what G7 stands for?

It is the Group of Seven Countries which share the same ideas about a fair world. This year there will be 11 Countries involved as there are 4 extra invited guests.

Can you guess any of these 11 countries and tell me if they're a member or a guest?

Members Canada France Germany Italy Japan UK USA

Guests Australia South Africa South Korea India

The G7 have been meeting every year for over 40 years and in the past their discussions and actions have been successful in saving millions of lives from illness around the world by providing extra healthcare, and they have worked together to provide education for millions of children from the poorest countries.

So what will they be talking about this time does anyone know?

The main topics will be how to help countries around the world recover from Covid-19.

That might be by sharing vaccines and hospital equipment or helping businesses to get started again. They will also be talking about how to look after environment. These talks are really important for children and young people and that is why we really want them to hear directly from you.

Can anyone think of any ways which we could and should be protecting our planet better?

These are all fantastic ideas. Take these ideas, and others you can think of, use your artistic skills to turn them into a poster that will grab the attention of Our Prime Minister Boris Johnson and the other leaders.

Boris Johnson will pick the winner and we will show this and the runners up to all the World Leaders to inspire them to make good decisions on our behalf.

Get creating and we can't wait to see what you come up with!

Fraud Awareness Alert

Every now and again school receives Fraud Awareness Alerts from Cornwall Council. Much of it is specifically related to schools, however, we thought we would share the following advice with you:

Key Advice - Phishing Emails

Phishing emails will often ask you to click on a link, or open an attachment, which can then infect the device you are using with a virus, often designed for fraudulent purposes, or to aid other illicit activity. Such viruses can have extremely serious results.

Please note that the following should always ring alarm bells:

- Unexpected emails or other communications that ask you to click on an external link (even if you know the sender, their mailbox may have been hijacked) Information Classification: CONTROLLED
- • Emails from people or organisations you do know, but where the content seems out of character or out of place
- • The email address that appears in the 'from' field of an email is not a guarantee that the email came from the person or organisation that it claims to have originated from (simply hovering a cursor over the sender of an email can often - but not always - reveal its real address)
- • Misspelled domain names or email addresses made to look very similar to legitimate ones, for example cornwall.gov.uk; cornwall.gov.uk; cornwall.gov.uk
- • Unexpected attachments from external sources
- • Strange or unusual content that indicates you must take quick action to gain a reward or to avoid a negative consequence
- • Web hyperlinks which display something different to the link itself when your mouse is hovered over it
- • Emails asking for your password, PIN or other credentials
- • Emails containing odd 'spellings' or 'cAPitALs' in the 'subject' box and/or spelling or grammatical errors in the content of the email (this is often an attempt to get around spam filters and into your inbox)
- • Fraudsters are unlikely to know your real name, so the email may address you in vague terms, for example 'Dear Valued Customer'

If you receive any suspicious emails delete them. Do not reply to them, click on any embedded links within them or open any attachments that they contain.

Please remember that as well as email, text messaging, social media such Facebook and Twitter and instant messenger chats, like Skype can also be used to distribute malware, so exert the same diligence in your use of these channels.
